

SRI VOCATIONAL TRAINING CENTER (VTC) FOR WOMEN

Provide skill training for women to secure employment in order to support themselves and their families.

Women can find work in sewing, embroidery and crocheting, allowing house-bound women to start their own business.

PROGRESS TO DATE

Three VTC's have been established, with a total of 200 women graduating each year. SRI's eVillage initiative, implemented in 2 VTC's, provides basic computer training, improving a woman's ability to run a business or to further her education possibilities.

SRI METHODOLOGY

SRI is partnered with the Roshni Centre for Women. The building is provided by the village, SRI pays the rent. Teachers, training materials and tools are provided by SRI.

At the completion of training each woman is given a toolkit related to her trade, to enable her to start work and/or her own business.
